

First day

In the quest to discover a new world of mysteries and myths, 5 lands agreed to meet in Portugal, almost at the end of the European continent.

Our Portuguese hosts pick us up from the airport in Lisbon.

We arrived late that evening to Peniche. We were happy and tired after the long flight. We the participants met and introduced our selves. We feel very welcomed and the locals are very nice. This is the first time in Portugal for many of us and we are very glad and thankful to be here in Peniche.
